

caillou

Book 2-1

Storyteller: Come on! It's story time, kids. Now let's see. This story happened when Caillou was only three and Rosie was just a baby. Today's story is called "Caillou Goes Shopping".

Daddy: Caillou, time to get up! It's snowing outside! Look!

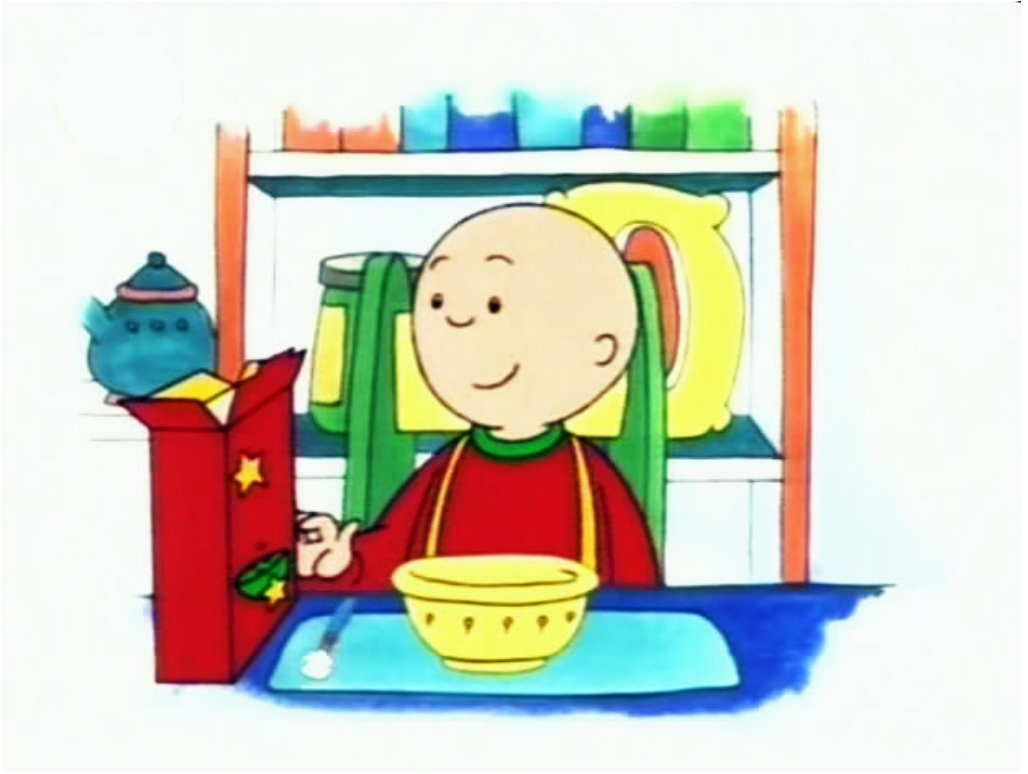

Caillou: Yeah! I want to make a snowman.

Daddy: Let's get you dressed first. Now, where are your sweaters?

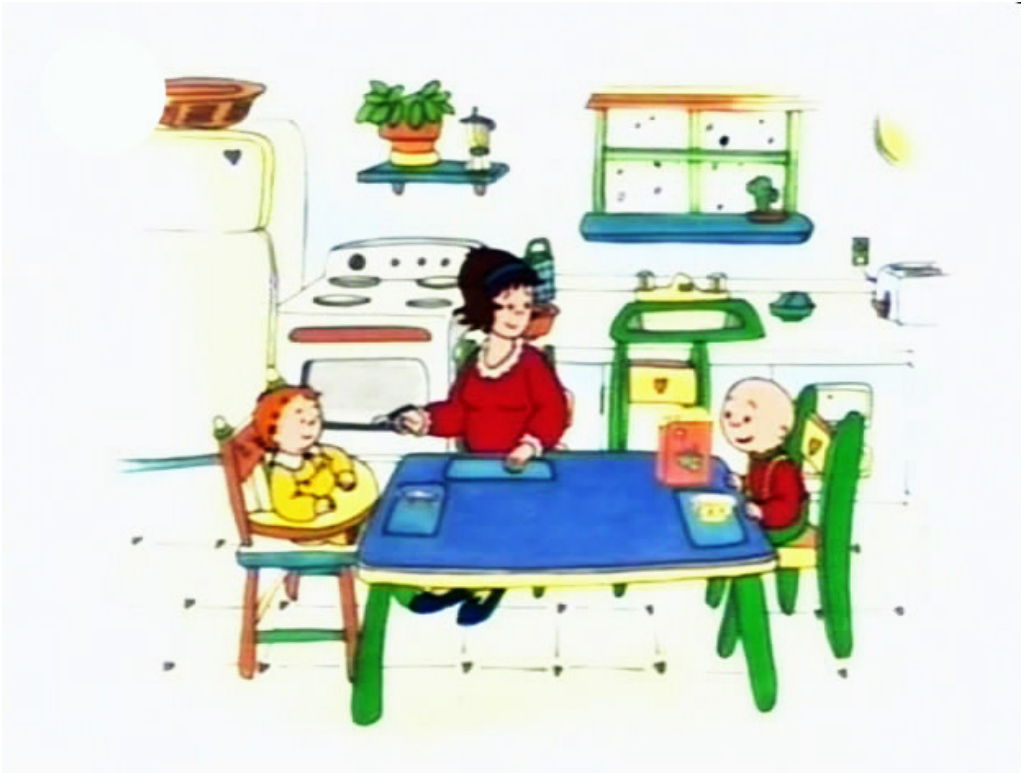

Caillou: Then I want to wear these!

Daddy: If you wear shorts outside you'll feel as cold as a snowman.

Caillou: There's no more cereal.

Mommy: We'll get some when we go shopping. And we need some eggs too, because I'm making a special surprise cake.

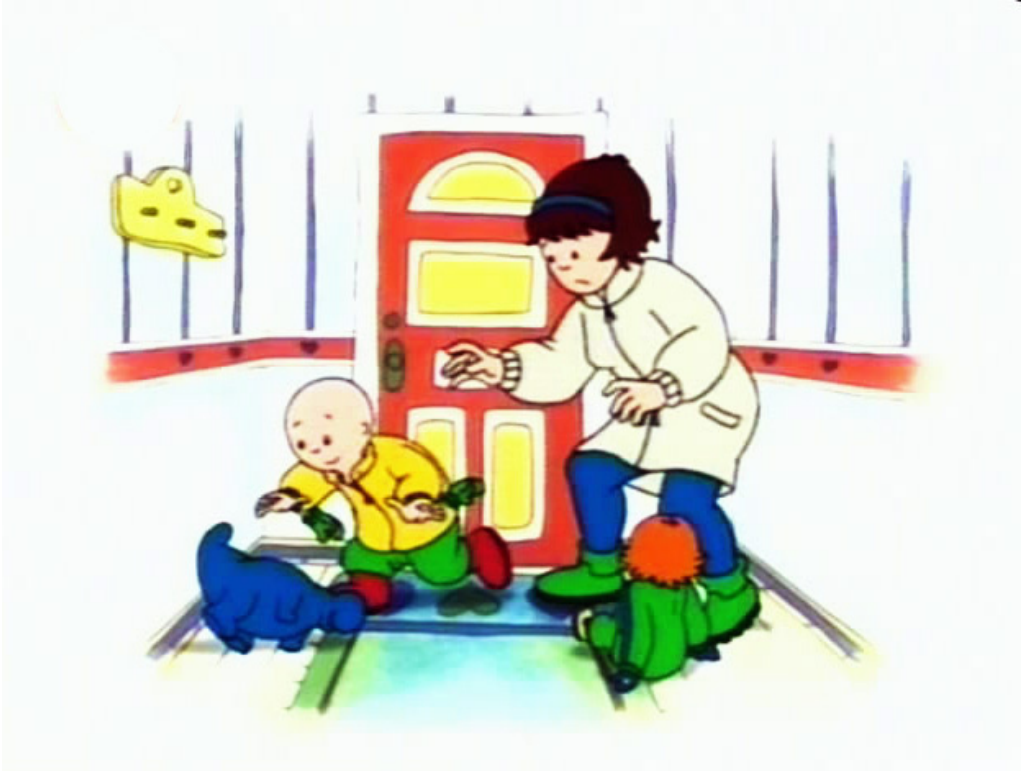

Caillou: Special surprise cake?

Caillou & his sister: Yeah!

Storyteller: Caillou and Rosie always like Mommy's special surprise cakes but they never knew exactly what the surprise would be.

Mommy: Caillou, it's time to go to the store. Put on your coat and boots.

Caillou: But Mommy, I want to play with my dinosaur.

Mommy: You can play with him later. Now, come on! We are waiting for you.

Storyteller: Caillou liked to go shopping but he always took a long time to get ready because he liked playing too.

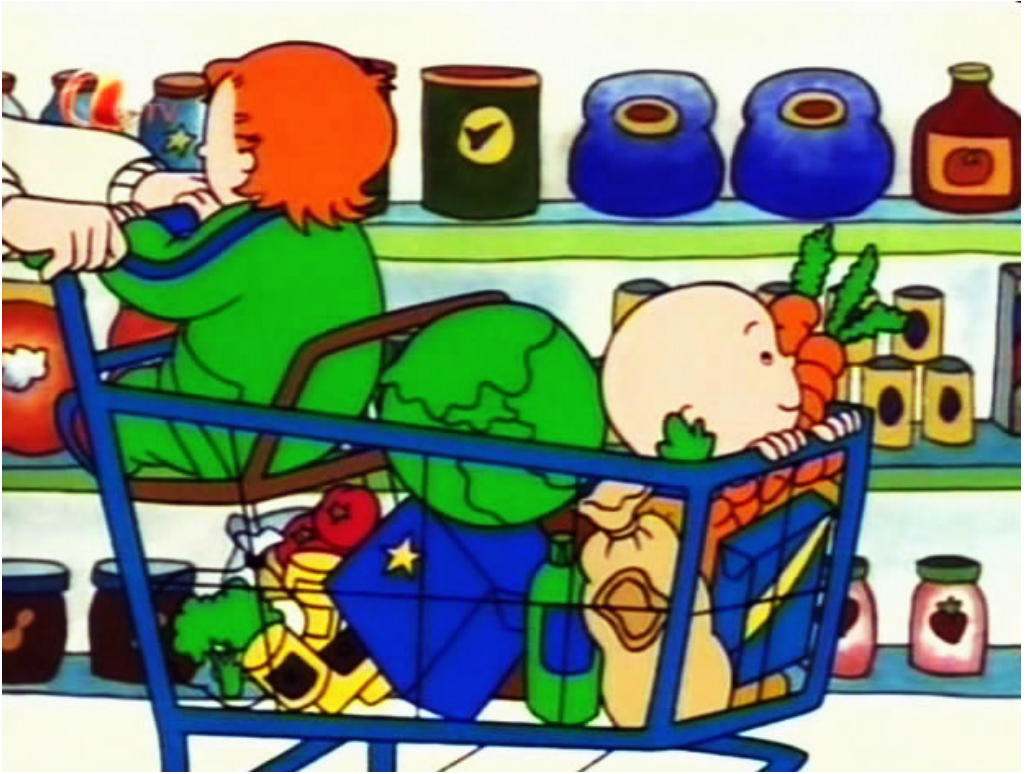

Mommy: Caillou, get in the car, please!

Caillou: Are we gonna make a snowman?

Mommy: Well, yes! As a matter of fact, we are.

Caillou: Yeah! A snowman!

Mommy: But right now, we have to get going.

Caillou: Mommy I want to ride like Rosie.

Mommy: Okay! Let's get going, or there won't be time to make that snowman.

Caillou: I want these!

Mommy: Caillou, we're having a special surprise cake, remember? So, we don't need cookies too, okay?

Caillou: What is the special surprise cake?

Mommy: If I tell you, I will spoil the surprise. Now, when we get to the checkout, I want you to look after Rosie, while I take care of the groceries.

Storyteller: All Caillou could think about were those cookies; but he forgot exactly where he'd seen them. Before he knew it, he was all alone, lost and feeling afraid.

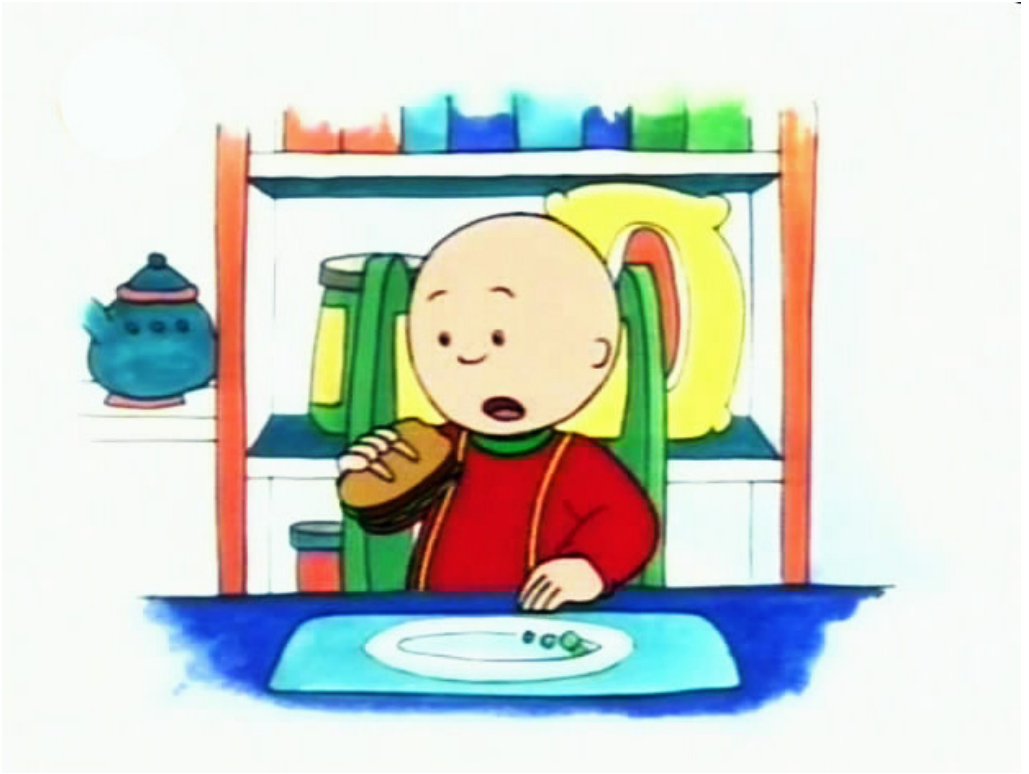

Caillou: Mommy, Mommy! Where are you? Mommy!

Mommy: Caillou, what happened?

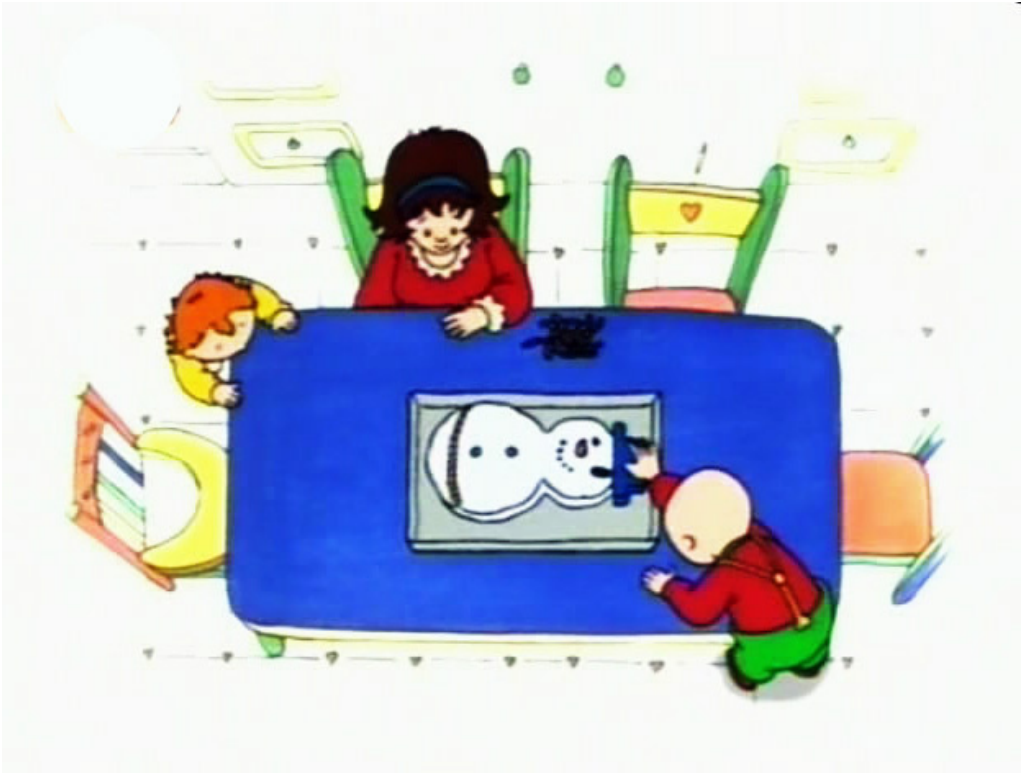

Caillou: You run away.

Mommy: No, Caillou, you did. But I'm very glad we found you. Let's go home.

Storyteller: Caillou was still feeling upset! But he was very happy to see his Mommy and Rosie again.

Caillou: I didn't like it when I was lost, Mommy.

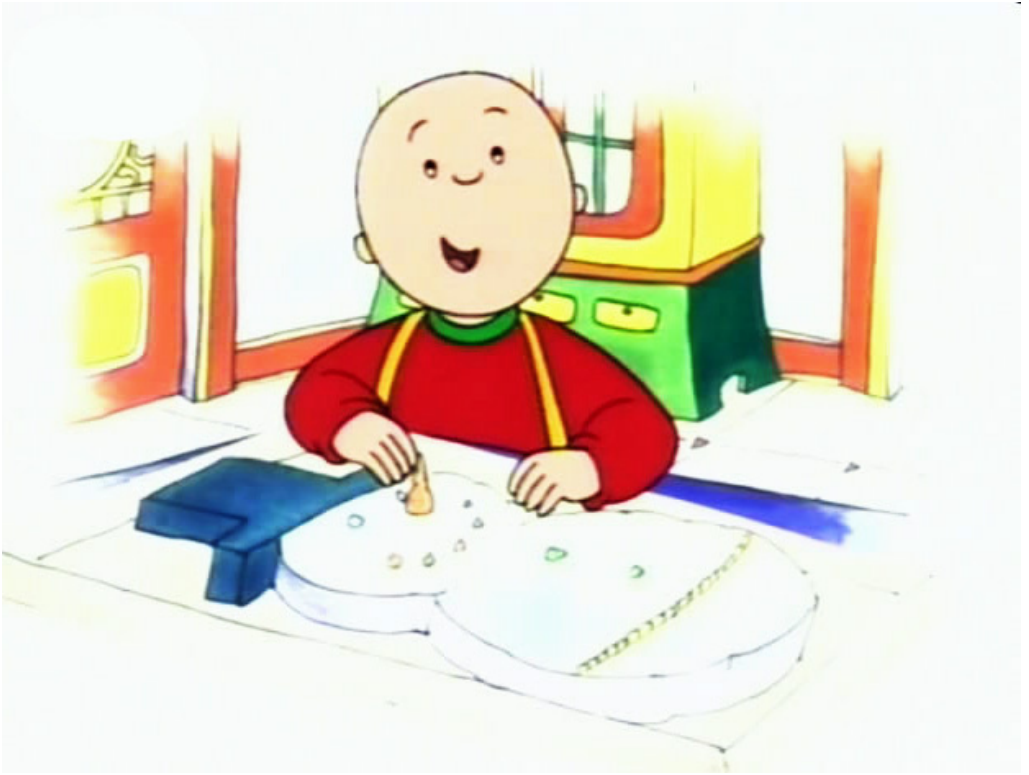

Mommy: I didn't like it either, sweetie! So, let's make sure you don't get lost again. Now, let's finish making that special surprise cake.

Caillou: but I wanted to make a snowman.

Mommy: We're going to make a snowman. Only we're gonna make him right here in the kitchen.

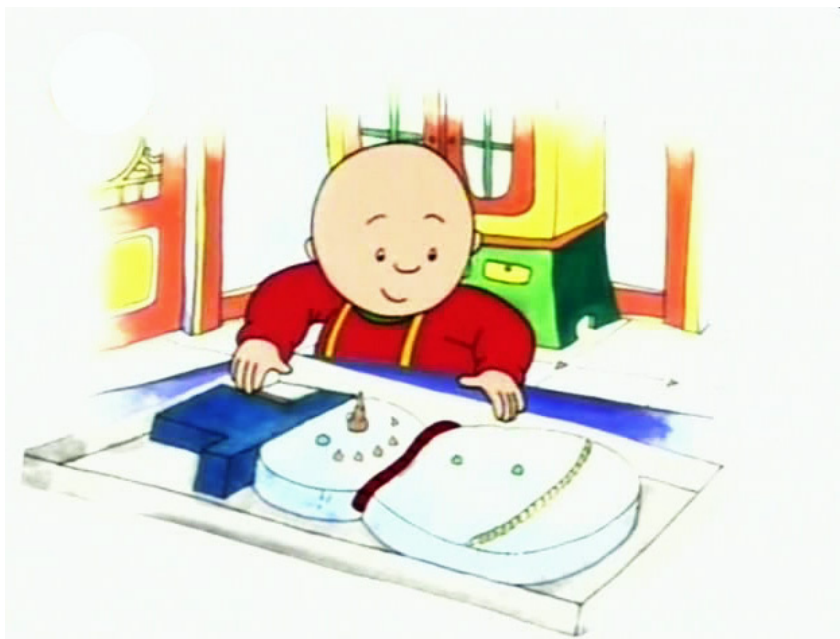

Caillou: The special surprise cake! Yeah!

Storyteller: Caillou and Rosie were absolutely right. They had guessed what Mommy's surprise was going to be.

Caillou: Mommy, look! He is really a snowman.

Mommy: Then he must be cold. Let's give him a scarf.
